

Add Question Groups In A Course

On the Course Overview Page, all pages of the course are displayed with previews of their page elements. Use the dropdown menu to add a question group / question to the course.

“Add Question Group” opens the Add Question Group modal and allows the user to create a custom group of questions to be used for assessment purposes

A screenshot of the "Add Question Group" modal. The modal has a green header with the title "Add Question Group" and a close button. Below the header, there is instructional text: "Once the question group has been saved, you can add questions to it. If you choose not to show all the questions in the group, which questions are shown will be picked at random." Below this is a text input field for "Number of questions to show (blank to show all questions)". Then, there is a dropdown menu for "Questions in this question group" with the selected option "Count towards the passing grade as a single entity". Below that is a "Passing Grade" section with a text input field, a "% of" dropdown, and the text "Questions in this question group". At the bottom right, there are "Save" and "Cancel" buttons.

The user can choose for all questions in the Question Group to be asked or for a specific number of questions from the question group to be randomly generated in the course. (Leave this blank to show all questions.)

A dropdown menu allows the user to select if the questions in the question group 1) count toward the passing grade as a single entry, 2) count toward the individual grade as individual questions, or 3) do not count toward the passing grade.

“Save” opens the Edit Question Group modal, allowing users to add questions.

Once a question group has been created, it will appear as a slide on the page being created. The slide can be dragged and dropped by clicking the multi-dimensional arrow that appears at the upper left-hand corner.

After the question group has been saved, you can continue to add questions to it. If you chose not to show all the questions in a question group, the questions shown are randomly selected.

Clicking the “+” to the right of Questions opens the “Add Question” modal, which can also be accessed directly on the New Page dropdown menu.
